Privacy & Data Processing

HBHR's processing policy in relation to the Client Data provided as part of the Client's use of the Service is in Appendix A of this document. The processing policy sets out the scope, nature and purpose of processing by HBHR, the duration of the processing and the types of Personal Data within the Client Data and categories of data subject. HBHR reserves the right to modify its processing policy where required by Data Protection Legislation from time to time.

Both parties shall comply with all applicable requirements of the UK General Data Protection Legislation (UK GDPR). This clause is in addition to, and does not relieve, remove, or replace, a party's obligations under the UK GDPR.

Evolution of HR

The parties acknowledge that for the purposes of the UK GDPR, for any Personal Data within:

1. Account Data, HBHR is the data controller.
2. Client Data, the Client is the data controller and HBHR is the data processor; (where data controller and data processor have the meanings as defined in the UK GDPR).

Without prejudice to the generality of the forgoing of this clause, HBHR shall, in relation to any Personal Data within the Client Data:

1. Process that Personal Data only on the written instructions of the Client unless HBHR is required by the Applicable Law to process that Personal Data otherwise. For the avoidance of doubt, entering this Agreement by the Client constitutes written instructions to HBHR to process the Personal Data within the Client Data to enable HBHR to operate and provide the Services, and to otherwise process such Personal Data as identified in this Agreement.
2. Ensure that it has in place appropriate technical and organisational measures to protect against unauthorised or unlawful processing of Personal Data and against accidental loss or destruction of, or damage to, Personal Data, appropriate to the harm that might result from the unauthorised or unlawful processing or accidental loss, destruction or damage and the nature of the data to be protected, having regard to the state of technological development and the cost of implementing any measures (those measures may include, where appropriate, pseudonymising and encrypting Personal Data, ensuring confidentiality, integrity, availability and resilience of its systems and services, ensuring that availability of and access to Personal Data can be restored in a timely manner after an incident, and regularly assessing and evaluating the effectiveness of the technical and organisational measures adopted by it).
3. Ensure that all personnel who have access to and/or process Personal Data are obliged to keep Personal Data confidential.
4. Assist the Client, at the Client's cost, in responding to any request from a data subject and in ensuring compliance with its obligations under the UK GDPR with respect to security, breach notifications, impact assessments and consultations with supervisory authorities or regulators.
5. Notify the Client without undue delay on becoming aware of a Personal Data breach.
6. In anticipation of termination of this Agreement either return or delete the Personal Data in accordance with the Terms and Conditions around Data Return and Destruction, unless required by Applicable Law to continue to store the Personal Data.
7. Maintain complete and accurate records and information to demonstrate its compliance with this clause and allow for audits by the Client or the Client's designated auditor.

HBHR will not transfer any Personal Data within the Client Data outside of the United Kingdom unless requested by the client.

Evolution of HR

HBHR is permitted to process the Client Data by anonymising it and (where applicable following such anonymisation) aggregating it with other data sources in connection with HBHR's development of its products, strategies, or services or any further purpose related to HBHR's business, including for analytics, marketing, research, development, benchmarking purposes and additional services. For the avoidance of doubt, following such anonymisation, the derivative data shall not be considered to be Personal Data for which HBHR is the data processor on behalf of the Client.

The Client consents to HBHR appointing the following classes of third-party processors of Personal Data under this Agreement:

1. Service providers acting as processors based in the United Kingdom who provide IT, hosting development and system administration services.
2. Professional advisers acting as processors or joint controllers including lawyers, bankers, auditors and insurers based in the United Kingdom who provide consultancy, banking, legal, insurance and accounting services.
3. HM Revenue & Customs, regulators and other authorities acting as processors or joint controllers based in the United Kingdom who require reporting of processing activities in certain circumstances.

HBHR confirms that it has entered or (as the case may be) will enter into a written agreement incorporating terms which are substantially similar to those set out in this clause with any third-party processor who has access to Personal Data within Client Data. As between the Client and HBHR, HBHR shall remain fully liable for any failure of such third-party processor to fulfil such substantially similar data protection obligations as if such actions were the actions of HBHR.

HBHR may, at any time on not less than 30 days' notice, revise this clause by replacing it with any applicable controller to processor standard clauses or similar terms forming part of an applicable certification scheme (which shall apply when replaced by attachment to this Agreement).

Appendix A
